Miho's Dream

Miho is a 13-year-old junior high school student. Before the summer vacation, her teacher gave the students homework. They had to write about their dreams.

The first week of the summer vacation, she went to her grandmother's home in Hokkaido. She stayed for one night. Hokkaido was very beautiful and there were many places to visit.

On the first day, they went to Furano. They saw a beautiful lavender field there. She ate an ice cream and bought a lot of lavender souvenirs for her friends. When they came back home, she said to her grandmother, "I want to grow lavender flowers in the future."

On the second day, her grandmother took her to the zoo in Asahikawa and she saw many animals there. One monkey was injured. When she saw it, she felt very sorry and wanted to help the monkey. When they came back home, she said to her grandmother, "Yesterday, I wanted to grow lavender flowers in the future, but today I wanted to be an animal doctor more than a gardener." Her grandmother was very happy that Miho was thinking about her future job.
