Florence Nightingale*

Florence Nightingale was a nurse. She helped many people in the 19th century. Her name came from the city of Florence in Italy. Her parents went to the city after they got married* in 1818. Then, she was born there. Her family was rich and they had two homes. Florence was different from other girls. She didn't want to go to parties or get married. She wanted to be a nurse and help people. Her family didn't want her to become a nurse because hospitals were dirty places then. They were worried about their daughter.

In 1851, Florence went to Germany and learned all about nursing*. It was hard work, but she loved it. In 1854, a lot of soldiers* went to fight in the Crimean War*. There were a lot of injured* men at the hospitals, but they did not have enough nurses. Many men died. Florence and a team of nurses went to help. Florence worked 20 hours a day to clean the hospital and make it a safe place*. She brought the men fresh food, she cleaned the hospital beds and she used clean bandages* on the injured soldiers. At night, Florence walked around the hospital. She talked to the injured soldiers and helped them to write letters to their families. She carried a lamp and the soldiers called her, "The lady with the lamp."
